Herring River Project: The desire is to have the road elevated along the culvert. The water line is high already and there was concern about how high the water line would end up being after the fill was put in. This is happening place around Browns Neck and Coles Neck area. The line will be in steel casing which currently is not. The pressure is high and plastic piping may not work. May want to think about putting the line in concrete. One option would be to have the line raised and insulated, which the line could run alongside the culvert rather than to have it buried below the culvert.

Peter Simon: New Water Commissioner

Peter gave an overview of his professional career. The Commissioners also talked about their professional careers.
